

THE ART OF EDUCATION

Please come and enjoy a Talk by Jamie Loftus on the curriculum and child development. He will lead you on a journey through time and space from class one through to class seven and beyond. There will be some hands-on activities for you to participate in, and listen to the wonder of storytelling to enliven your imagination and wonders of the world of education.

Jamie Loftus was born in Sydney, Australia. He attended a Waldorf high school and his appreciation for his own education led him to Waldorf teaching. He earned his Bachelor of Education and also completed an Advanced Diploma in Steiner Education in Sydney, Australia.

Jamie has worked at a Waldorf School in Sydney for over 23 years. During this time, Jamie has been both a Grades teacher and high school guardian. In his high school role, Jamie specialized in Physical Education, Biology, Geography, First Aid, Outdoor Education and Beekeeping. Jamie has chaperoned students on many Outdoor Education trips, including travel to Central Australia, Thailand, New Zealand, Fiji and Europe. More recently Jamie has been a pioneering Grades teacher at a Waldorf School in New York City. He was involved in all aspects of the school, including management, curriculum development and parent education. Jamie has served on the Board of Directors and has also been Chairman of the College.
